Description

King of App we are the first Mobile Content Management System. Aware of the growth of the mobile applications market, we have developed an open source platform which is going to be a break point in Apps building concept. King of App is targeted to designers and developers who are interested in apps creation. Our platform allows everyone to build free designed Apps but also to code their own modules and themes. So, our sales strategy is focused to create a great community in which everyone can offer services and products to guarantee a better experience. Let's build your App!
