Description
Globalcomm Europe is a global-oriented Catalan company located at Barcelona. Globalcomm VoiceGen® platform combines the power and ubiquity of the Cloud, the convenience of the in-House technology and the agility and versatility of the mobile devices and applications to offer multi-channel (voice, video, messaging and social networks) unique solutions to improve both internal and external communication. Different sectors like hospitality, logistics or healthcare take advantage from VoiceGen®'s vertical market applications on a daily basis to maximize compatibility of the technological assets, reduce telco costs and empower productivity and mobility among their employees.
