Description

Jayway, with 170 professionals in Scandinavia and the US, is a one-stop software innovation- and development partner. We help our customers innovate, develop and maintain products and service experiences where software is the key enabler. Sometimes we assign individual consultants as a member of a development team; more often we develop and deliver a complete service from idea to operations. Our favorite modus operandi is co-creating groundbreaking new services and products in very close creative collaboration with our customers.
