Description

Nosibay brings you new ways to communicate with internet users. Nosibay is a software company based in Montpellier in the South of France, established in 2004. Our solutions include a complete range of tools for software distribution, a dedicated software installation platform and software monetization tools including bundle offers, remarketing systems and real time desktop alerts. Bubble Dock, Nosibay's patented customizable desktop app, provides opportunities for customer acquisition and loyalty improvement and is widely used by the general public with over 4 million users worldwide. We actually work on the mobile version of our different offers.
